War Goes To College

By MARY SMITH

An army travels on its stomach.

This fact, and also the realization of the importance of nutrition to the fighting forces and the people at home, was established in World War I.

Today, courses being given in foods and nutrition in the Home Economics department have taken on a new importance but many people still fail to realize the full significance of proper diet in keeping up fighting and home morale.

IN THE HOME AND ARMY
Graduates from the Home Economics department in the field of nutrition go into teaching, homemaking, and dietetics—all of which either reach the men in the Army and Navy or the American home.

Those going into dietetics, after a year of internship, may go directly either into the Army or into hospitals. Those becoming housewives can help their neighbors and thus spread their knowledge. And those teaching will reach both the youth and their parents, many of the latter through the adult education centers.

Women in the Home Economics department are learning to conserve food, use it to its full capacity, and what the substitutes are for shortage articles.

VESTLESS SUITS
In another field, that of textiles, the home economics student is learning the substitute materials made of soy bean fibers and redwood fibers and how to conserve the vanishing wools and silks.

They will be among the first to introduce substitutes, remake, and then make over again, the wools and silks, and accept the new styles of dresses made from material three yards long and inches wide.

When the men start wearing suits without lapels, cuffs, pockets, or vests, they will know the whys and wherefores. They will realize the need of patience using the materials we have in making them last.

CHILD EVACUATION
Then entering a different category, there is the work of child development and care in times of emergency. Those taking the National Defense Service course care of children in case of evacuation and emergencies will be qualified along with those trained in child development to care for these youngsters' needs.

Women working in defense know that their children are being the proper care, and if families are separated in times of attack, these students can take over with ability and deftness.

LEARN ABOUT COOPERATION

The Co-op House Council at San Jose State college has designated next week as co-op week. During the week several functions in connection with the college co-op houses have been planned. These affairs have been designated to make students, faculty and townspeople more conscious of the co-operative way of living on this campus.

This movement is a comparatively new thing at this school and one that has really become popular. However, most students and faculty are still ignorant of this democratic way of living.

To correct this the Council has planned an open house at which time students living in the houses will show those attending a first hand demonstration of living in a co-op.

Also of interest to San Joseans will be the several explanatory talks and movies explaining the co-operative movement. At this meeting several faculty members from San Jose State college will talk on different phases of the movement and tell of what profit it is to the students of our college. Guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. Hal Norton, who has long been identified with co-operative houses on the University of California campus.

It has been a trait of the American people to be rather independent and in these times co-operation will help to keep us free. To see and hear it explained we recommend that you participate in Co-op week.

ORCHIDS TO REVELRIES...

Orchids to members of the cast of this year's "Revelries" and to all those who worked to make the production the overwhelming success that last night's performance proved it to be.

Five weeks of rehearsal... "one, two, three, kick" for hours on end for the dancers, lines for the actors, and work, work, and more work for the director and his assistants, the stage crew, the property manager and his crew, and the many others involved... these five weeks of co-ordinated activity have spelled success for the tenth annual "Revelries."

Divorce of the annual extravaganza from the Spardi Gras unquestionably spelled a large part of its success last night. An afternoon and early evening of wild hilarity, plus Revelries, plus the biggest ASB dance of the year, have proved to be too much for both audiences and personnel of the annual Revelries... hence in years past, the cast has not been at its best, and the audience has followed suit. Last night Revelries proved that it was big enough to stand alone, rather than being used as a part of the annual Spring campus festival.

Members of the campus Soldier Welfare Committee liked Revelries so well that it is to be produced in various Army camps throughout California... a break for the Army and marvelous publicity for San Jose State college.

Once more, bouquets to the cast... to Director Len Baskin... to Patricia Loomis and Florence Scudero, who handled publicity for the show... to Clyde Appleby, whose band plays for the production... to Wilbur Scott, Angelo Columbo, and Stan Hollingsworth, whose songs are used; to Irving Gold, Jeanette Owen, Bill Lee, John Caro, and to all others who contributed their varied talents to the show. We know the Army will like them as well as we did.

Thrust And Parry

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Thursday morning in your column appeared a letter from one Ben Frizzi. In response to this letter I wish to state that said Mr. Frizzi made no effort to ascertain whether or not a move was about to create a McDonald Memorial.

Upon inquiry I find that long ago a committee headed by Dr. Stafflebach had set the machinery in motion to create such a memorial.

FOR SERVICE CONTRIBUTION

Dear Editor:

I miss the old Spartan Daily a great deal since I've come to Chicago. You were kind enough to send them to me in San Diego, but since transferring to Chicago they have not been forwarded to me.

A friend of mine sent me the February 10 issue and in it you mentioned the fact that "spring had sprung" and the kids were cutting classes. Here in Chicago it's still snowing and, believe me, it's cold, especially for one who is used to California weather.

Say, have you ever heard of eating beans for breakfast? Well, you get them in the Navy. Tell the men who eat in "Ma" McKay's place that they really get good food compared to some we've been getting.

We live on a pier just like those on the waterfront in San Francisco. It's five-eighths of a mile long and we walk the distance at least six times daily for chow and sometimes more. The pier is divided into sections of about 44 feet and 720 men sleep in triple decker beds. Boy! It feels like an earthquake when one or the other turns over. The top deck is six feet up, making it a long way to fall.

Some are studying diesel engines, others aviation mechanics and aviation metal-smithing. The fellows come from every state in the Union but I'll bet if the Civil

League

Coming into the final two weeks of the season, both the A and B intra-collegiate basketball league leaders are well established and will probably battle it out the third week of next month for the championship.

League

In the B league the Owls won the title by a close 18-17 over the second place Winnetuks and a convincing win over the Bombers. A win for the Bombers would have knotted the Owls in the first place spot. The only other change in the standings found the Blue Devils moving into the fourth spot after losing down the cellar since the beginning of the tourney. They trailed the Trojans to replace

SPARTAN SWIMMERS SEEK REPEAT WIN OVER ATHENS CLUB IN OAKLAND POOL TONIGHT AT 8; STATERS GIVEN EDGE

Seeking win number two in five starts, San Jose State's varsity swimming team will invade Oakland tonight at 8 o'clock to battle the Athens Club mermen in a return meet.

In their previous encounter in the local pool the Spartans came out on top by a 54-21 score taking all but two of the nine first places.

However, with the much longer pool, the Spartans will be slightly handicapped and their times will be much slower than those posted in the local pool.

TURN THE TABLES

Cecil Dombalian, Spartan diver, who was defeated by Postado in the local encounter, will be out to avenge his defeat tonight in the Athens pond. However, he will be hard pressed for victory as Postado outpointed him by 59 points and he only nosed out Sholler of the Athens club by two points for the second spot.

Another Spartan, Roger Frelrier, will be attempting to turn the tables on McBulliff, who barely won the 220 yard breaststroke in the initial meet.

STRONG IN SPRINTS

In the sprints the Spartans had their own way, taking first and second places in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyles. With the improvement of Egon Hoffman they should again take a lead here.

Walter Sindel captured both the 220 and 440 freestyle races in the previous meet and should have no difficulty tonight. His top opponent, Grause, took second in the (Continued on page 4)

Grattan Memorial Tournament Held In Gym Tomorrow

State wrestlers get their first competition of the season tomorrow night in the second annual Gene Grattan Memorial tournament in Spartan pavilion.

Coch Sam Della Maggiore is entering 14 men on the Spartan team in order to give all of his wrestlers a chance.

At 121 pounds, Della Maggiore will use Bob Sakamoto and George Kawata. Ivan Olsen, defending champion, and Jim Yage and Harold Janic will compete at 136.

The 145-pound division is in the keeping of Paul Anderman and Leroy Charlesworth, while John Castleman and Leo Raiche wrestle in the 155-pound class.

Captain Dave Hines takes care of the 165-pound assignment with Hans Wiedenhofer and Al Long in the 175-pound division.

Gray McConnell and Vern Cartwright will represent State in the heavyweight division.

Casaba Men Make Bid For Conference Crown On Six-Game Road Trip Through South; Open Against Santa Barbara

Move To Border City For Four-Game Flurry Against San Diego Aztecs

By SEBASTIAN SQUATRITO

With the CCAA conference crown awaiting them at the end of the trail, Sparta's cage team starts out on a six-game road trip playing Santa Barbara State college tonight and tomorrow in Santa Barbara and then moving down to San Diego to end the season in a four-game finale with the Aztecs on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

To grasp the title, the Spartans must at least split with Santa Barbara, who tops the league with a record of six wins and four defeats. San Diego follows with five victories and three setbacks. San Jose has a three-and-three average, and Fresno is at the bottom with a five and seven mark.

SPARTAN BOXERS BATTLE BAY CITY TEAM TONIGHT

Nine boxers, along with three trainers and managers and Coach DeWitt Portal, will leave San Jose at 5:30 tonight enroute to San Francisco for a return boxing meet with USF, the first away-from-home contest for the Spartan pugilists this season.

Four of the eight bouts with the San Franciscans will be rematches. Changes from the first card two weeks ago include a bout between Walter Toupin of San Jose and John Koehnle of USF in the heavyweight division; an exhibition between USF's Bill Bussenius and Stan Smith of San Jose in the light-heavyweight class; a battle between Ritchie Walsh, USF's only winner in the first meet, and Woody Gibson, State boxer who defeated Jess Castro of USF the same evening; and an "unknown" duel between Jack Ferguson, a newcomer to Portal's team, and Bill Schneider of USF.

John Dahl and Fenton Hill will act as managers for San Jose tonight, and Dick Miyagawa as trainer.

THIRD MEETING

The meeting between the Spartans and Gauchos will be the third of this season. Santa Barbara met the locals early in the season here, winning the first game 41 to 31 and dropping the second 30 to 28.

The team, which leaves this morning, will be minus Elwood Clark, who is in the Health cottage. The third highest scorer on the squad as well as the tallest, Clark's loss is a heavy blow to the Spartan cause.

He has a severely sprained ankle suffered in the second game of the Nevada series. He also has a cold. However, back with the team after an absence of two weeks is Roy Diedericksen, fast reserve guard.

Marvin Zemanek will take Clark's place at the pivot post, and he in turn will be replaced by Bert Robinson, who will also play at one of the guard positions.

WSSF DRIVE GOES INTO HIGH GEAR; GOAL SET AT $218

With the slogan, "Wear a Coin for a Cause," the World Student Service Fund drive got under way yesterday with an all-out effort being made to reach the quota of $218.

Each student wearing a small Chinese coin tied with red ribbon has donated to the fund. Coins may be obtained from any organization which has appointed a WSSF representative, and organizations that have not obtained coins may do so by contacting Jane Desmond at the Student Center between 4 and 5 p.m. any day.

These representatives will also be offering the coins to students on Washington Square until the drive closes on March 6.

Among the first contributors was Mary George, co-operative house for women, members of which will go without dinner Thursday night, with the proceeds to be turned over to the WSSF.

Several affairs have also been planned by Chairmen Jane Jillson and Allan Isaksen to augment donations. On Tuesday, March 3, Roland Elliot, world traveler and YMCA executive, who has just returned from Europe, will speak in Morris Dailey at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.
